GREETINGS!

Thousands and thousands of kids and adults come away to this beautiful property each year for camps, retreats, and training opportunities. Inspiration Point is known for an endless amount of fun and adventure, its beautiful setting, and a highly trained, high-quality staff.

As a widely respected camp and retreat ministry in the Upper Midwest, Inspiration Point recognizes that the success of a summer camp or retreat experience depends on several factors: 1) we are committed to hiring and training the best staff around, 2) the physical, emotional, and social safety of kids is paramount, and 3) distractions from daily life must be removed.

Our summer staff has been carefully vetted and, before campers ever arrive on site, they participate in an intense, 11-day, 130-hour training. College-age cabin leaders are selected on their commitment to Jesus Christ, their character, and their love for kids – these are the ones who stand out among their peers. Serving an entire summer, they receive daily coaching as they lead cabin groups of five to eight campers. This means that during their camp experience, your child will be under the care of thoroughly screened, well equipped, and highly resourced young adults. Indeed, Inspiration Point is known for its high-caliber staff.

All activities are constantly supervised. We employ a host of lifeguards who are always on duty whenever water activities are available. Since we believe in the importance of modern and comfortable buildings, all sleeping and meeting facilities are air-conditioned and very clean! Summer surveys also show how much campers appreciate our great food.

The research is clear: kids need experiences like camp more than ever. Inspiration Point camps are designed to foster friendships, help campers gain confidence, and experience new activities, while providing a setting where they can grow in their faith. You'll find what you would expect and hope for in a high-quality camp experience at an extremely reasonable price, especially when compared with similar summer opportunities.

Within the following pages, you'll find an extensive overview of the various camps, retreats, events, and opportunities we have in store for 2024. We sincerely hope that you will come away to Inspiration Point this year and experience the joy of camp for yourself. Hope to see you soon!
